MUSIC IN CAMP.

Two armies covered hill and plain,
Where Rappahannock's waters
Red, deeply crimsoned with the stain
Of battle's recent slaughters.

The Summer clouds lay pictured like tents
In meads of heavenly azure;
And each dread gun of the elements
Slept in its hid embrasue.

The breeze so softly blew it made
No forest leaf to quiver.
And the smoke of the random cannonade
Rolled slowly from the river.

And now, where circling hills looked down,
With cannon grimly planted,
O'er listless camp and silent town,
The golden sunset slanted.

When o'er the fervid air there came
A strain, now rich, now tender;
The music seemed itself aflame
With day's departing splendor.

A Federal band, which eve and morn
Played measures brave and nimble,
Had just struck up the flute and horn,
And lively clash of symbal.

Down flocked the soldiers to the banks,
Till, margined by its pebbles,
One wooded shore was blue with 'Yanks,'
And one was gray with 'rebels.'

Then all was still and then the band,
With movements light and tricksy,
Made stream and forest, hill and strand,
Reverberate with Dixie.

The conscious stream, with burnished glow,
Went proudly o'er its pebbles,
But thrilled throughout its deepest flow
With yelling of the rebles.

Again a pause, and then again
The trumpets pealed sonorous,
And Yankee doodle was the strain
To which the shore gave chorus.

The laughing ripples shoreward flew
To kiss the shining pebbles;
Loud shrieked the swarming Boys in Blue
Defiance to the rebels,

And yet once more the bugle sang
Above the stormy riot;
No shout upon the evening rang—
There reigned a holy quiet.

The sad, low stream its noiseless tread
Poured o'er the glistening pebbles;
And silent now the Yankees stood,
And silent stood the rebels.

No unresponsive soul had heard
That plaintive notes appealing,
So deeply Home, Sweet Home, had stirred
The hidden founts of feeling

Or blue or gray, the soldier sees,
As by the wand of fairy,
The cottage 'neath the live-oak trees,
The cabin by the prairie.

Or cold or warm, his native skies
Bend in their beauty o'er him;
Seen through the tear-mist in his eyes,
His loved ones stand before him.

As fades the iris after rain
In April's tearful weather,
The vision vanished as the strain
And daylight died together.

But memory, waked by music's art,
Expressed in simplest numbers,
Subdued the sternest Yankee's heart,
Made light the rebel's slumbers.

And fair the form of Music shines,
That bright, celestial creature,
Who still mid war's embattled lines
Gave this one touch of Nature.

A DESPERADO IN THE SOUTHWEST—HE COMMITS OVER FORTY MURDERS AND DEFIES LAW AND JUSTICE.—The Memphis Post, Feb. 3d, says: From a gentleman conversant with the facts in the case we have obtained some particulars in regard to the deeds of a desperado who infested Northeastern Texas, which seem more like the creations of fiction, or the record of events in the dark ages, than like occurrences of the present, and which, but for the reliability our informant, and his opportunities of obtaining the facts, we would be inclined to reject as incredible. History hardly affords a parallel to the atrocious conduct of this fiendish villain. Highwaymen and brigands in other countries impelled by the thirst for gold, may have committed as many deeds of blood, but murder with them was not the sole object. With him it seems to be a sort of diabolical pastime in which he takes delight as other men would do in the killing of game. He is one of the class of villains whose inate depravity and fiendishness was given development by the opportunities afforded by the war, and who have taken advantage of the unsettled state of affairs since to give full scope to the wickedness of their malignant hearts, which was before kept under restraint by force of law.

The name of the desperado is Baker. He calls himself Colonel Baker of the Confederate Army; but it is said he never held a commission in that army. He was in the rebel service as a private soldier or guerilla, and we believe at one time was also in the Union Army. He was in Texas before the war, and married in the region of his present exploits. After the war he had no disposition to settle down and make an honest and peaceable living, but ranged about committing depredations and outrages of the most infamous character. His conduct was so outrageous that General Reynolds commanding in Texas, issued an order declaring him an outlaw and directed that he should be killed wherever found. He has laterly been roaming over the country in the northeastern corner of Texas, and occasionally in the Indian Territory and Southwestern Arkansas, sometimes alone and at other time accompanied by other leaders and desperate characters.

A detailed account of all the outrages of this desperate villain would fill a volume. He is said to have committed upwards of forty murders. At first his murderous acts were confined to United States soldiers and negroes, but he has ceased to make distinctions, and no class is exempt from his atrocities. At one time he rode up and killed two soldiers who were unsuspicious of danger and unprepared for an attack. At another time he deliberately shot a colored driver.

A squad of men was sent out by a military commander to capture him, and met him on the road well mounted and armed, and held a conversation with him, but either from not knowing him or for some other cause, suffered him to escape unmolested. The commander of the post at Boston, Bowie county, Texas, issued a circular offering a reward of $200 for his head. Baker in return wrote a proclamation, signing it Colonel Baker, C. S. A., offering $400 for the commander's head. He proposed to capitulate on certain conditions, among which were the following: That all the United States soldiers should leave the South; that all rebels should be repaid for their losses during the war, and that the Southern Confedracy should be acknowledged. Of late he has announced that he will not spare rebels. He says they have submitted to the Yankees. and have dared to censure his acts, and he will treat all alike.

This desperado assumes an air of bravado and defiance, and has intimidated the people of the region which he curses with his prescence. A ferry privilege on Red river, which was recently put up at public sale, and which would have brought a good figure, was knocked down at $10 because he had given notice that he didn't want anybody to bid on it, and he then made the purchaser transfer the privilege to him.

Among the latest and most fiendish acts of this desperate villain were a number of murders committed on Sulphur Fork, in Bowie county, in the vicinity of his father-in-law's residence. He went with two companions to the house of an old man, an acquaintance and friend of his father-in-law, and riding up deliberately shot two colored men who came to the door. The old man went out to remonsterate with him, when he said with a malignant smile: "Old man you are of no account; you have outlived your usefulness," and presenting his revolver, fired, inflicting a fatal wound. The poor man fell to the ground and his two daughters ran to his assistance, when Baker knocked one of them down and left her bleeding and senseless. He then went to the fire-place, and remarking that the old house had stood long enough took a shovelful of coals and threw them upon a bed. Another daughter pulled the bed clothes off to extinguish the fire, when he drew a knife and cut her in the most horrible manner. After committing these diabolical acts, and treating the whole affair as a good joke, he left and went to his father-in-law's house, telling him that perhaps he had better go over to his friends, as they were in some trouble over there. When the neighbors went to the house the old man and one of his daughters were dead.

This crowning act of atrocious crime aroused the citizens, and a party was organized to capture and kill Baker. He, nowever, made his escape, and is still at large. It is to be hoped that the effort to rid the country of such a malignant fiend may not be abandoned.

THE TYRANNY OF FASHION.

BY MRS. JOHN HALIFAX.

As we sat in one of our city cars the other day, a young mother entered, dragging after her three babies, and seated herself with a sigh of such weariness that it arrested our lazy attention and set curiosity at work to trace that sigh to its source. She was a delicate little woman, with a face whose deepcut lines and premature wrinkles told so plainly of overwork that it might have moved any looker-on to pity.

Yet there she sat—poor, little, pale, jaded, dull-eyed, worn-out, old young woman—a slave to the hardest mistress that ever shod an iron heel with velvet, for she was dressed from the crown of her head to the sole of her foot accoding to the "very latest" rules of Fashion. Everything she wore, though of inexpensive material, was cut as carefully and trimed as elaborately as if she were the laziest belle of Fifth Avenue, with a score to execute her senseless whims. Her three children were decked off in like manner utterly regardless, if not of money, at least of time, Their little garments, all snow white, were tucked embroidered, braided, flounced to the last inch, shining with starch and faultless laundressing, till each poor baby was a moving mass of finery, just fit to sit up in the window of a "ladies' Emporium" as a sample of "Work of the best quality done here." Now if people who have plenty of time and money to waste choose to make little puppets of their children, they can do so with some show of reason under the plea that they have nothing else to do; but for the mother of a family, who was evidently her own nurse, seamstress, and maid of all work, to tax herself so needlessly, so absurdly as that! Is it not incomprehensible? And she is but one of thousands. Yet slow-brained people wonder every day why the women of this generation are not as healthy as their grandmothers. Reasons why are plenty, and this is one of them: The grandmother of that waxen faced expiring fragment of womanhood had but two "best" gowns—one for winter, one for summer—and she wore them half a life time without wasting any anxiety or labor on either. With her mother's brooch, and a fine kerchief, and some rich old lace handed down by an amiable grandmother, she was equipped for any occasion of dignity or importance. Then her children wore calico dresses, "linsey woolsey" petticoats and homespun stockings; played with dolls, and said their catechisms, and were so much healthier, happier, and better children than the little men and women who walk our streets to-day.

Now, the laws of Fashion change as rapidly as the seasons, and are so arbitrary that the shape of a collar, the width of a ribbon, the size of a bow, will determine one's claims to eligibility. And if it be folly in the rich to yield themselves to such tyranny, how much sacrifice their golden hours of leisure, their health, sometimes even life itself, in the senseless straining after empty and unsatisfying frippery which does not belong to them, and cannot add one iota to their solid comfort and happiness!

And the children—ah, me! Said a little lady of ten years in our hearing: "You see, aunty, my veil is real lace," and she held it up for admiration as if profoundly impressed with the importance of the weighty fact. Said another: "Will it do for me to wear this collar to the Park?" "Why not?" we asked innocently. "Why, it isn't a Shakespeare collar!" she replied, with wide-open eyes at our ignorance.

Oh, if mothers, rich and poor, would but give up that wearying struggle to comply with the demands of Fashion! if they would put upon their children comfortable, wholesome, neat, inexpensive dresses, and then devote the extra time and money to healthy recreation or culture; if they would go out and romp with them, play merry tunes that will set their little feet flying over the floor; read good books, study good pictures; in short, fill every cup brim-full of the pleasures that satisfy and cannot harm, then the sweetness of such a childhood will blosom and bear fruit in the future, when such frippery as beads and ribbons have done their poor miserable work and perished.

Children really need no such adornment. God made them beautiful, and beautiful they will be if His work is not tampered with. If they are healthy, happy, and innocent, they will always be the loveliest of God's gifts, and need no aid of ruffles or embroidery to make them attractive.

A JOURNEY THROUGH CENTRAL CHINA.—In addition to the letters concerning Dr. Livingstone read at the last meeting of the Royal Geographical Society, in London, an interesting and important memoir "On a Journey through Central China, from Canton to Hankow," By Mr. A. S. Bickmore, was read and discussed. Mr. Bickmore left Canton on the 7th of August, 1866, with the intention of following a route proposed for a future railway to Hankow, by way of Queilin and the banks of Siang affluent of the Yang-tse. It being autumn, and the season unusually dry, the upper courses of both the Cassia and the Siang were encumbered by rapids; at other times he believed it would be possible to travel from Canton through the interior of China to Shanghae in the same boat.

Near the populous city of Quei-lin, Mr. Bickmore narrowly escaped massacre by the unruly populace, notwithstanding the protection afforded him by the Mandarins. The whole country had been in a state of anarchy since the Tae-ling rebellion, and even boats belonging to the imperial government, with the Mandarins on board, were frequently plundered by hordes of ruffians on the banks of the river. Thence forward his Chinese guides kept him closely confined in his boat, that he might escape observation and reach the Yang-tse in safety. The canal connecting the Yang-tse basin with that of the Sikiang can only be used by boats drawing two feet of water. The water is kept in by dams built across wherever a rapid would occur, and allowing an escape only through a small gap deep enough for a single boat to pass.

At Sichang on the Siang river, are situated the principal coal mines of the region, and some fifty boats were seen loading. The mines are nothing more than deep pits in the sides of the hills, and consequently only surface coal is obtained. It is to be expected that better coal would occur below the water levee but as soon as the miners come to water they are oblidged to abandon the mines for want of proper pumping apparatus. From Sichang to Moukden, north Pekin, there is a continued series of coal mines on the flank of the elevations that form the western border of the great plain.

A striking spectacle was presented on arriving at Tung-ting lake, at the junction of the Siang with the Yang-tse. A heavy northerly wind had been blowing for six or seven days, and few or no boats had been able to proceed; a southerly breeze then set in, and all the boats that had been harboring in many creeks and bays came out, and at sunrise such a sight was obtained as numbered by the hundred milliions. As far as the eye could reach the surface of the lake was thickly feathered with white sails, some in sunshine some in shadow, and some in the dim distance apparently gliding on a thin film of air above the water. Four hundred and forty boats were counted in sight at one time. The Poyang lake lower down the river is one of the same character. It has been noticed that these great lakes have near them a group of high mountains; this is only another way of stating that where there has been an unusual elevation there has been a corresponding depression.

The President explained that Mr. Bickmore was a young American traveler of high promise, who had been occupied during three years in exploring the islands of the Malay Archipelago, and had finished his travels by passing thro' this unfrequented part of China—unvisited by Europeans since the days of old Jesuits—and traversing Mongolia and Siberia from Pekin to St. Petersburg.

A DESPERATE AND FATAL RECONTER.—Another one of those desperate and fatal reconters of which the past year has been so fruitful in the Rocky Mountain country, says the Sweetwater Miner—a newspaper just started, took place at the small settlement on Henry's Fork, a few miles to the eastward of Fort Bridger, on Wednesday the 27th of January last. Our informant states that two men—one a Mexican by the name of Juan Montoyer, and another generally known as "English George," (late a partner in some ferry on Snake river) got into a difficulty over a horse race and some bad whisky which terminated in the shooting and death of both parties. The particulars, as we gather them, are these: George and two others were at the cabin of Montoyer playing cards, when the subject of the recent horse race was broached; during the conversation, Montoyer accused George—who rode one of the horses—of having thrown off the race. As usual in such cases, the parties were not very choice in their selection of language, and bad blood was the consequence. George not being armed left for his cabin, and having procured a revolver returned to the cabin of Montoyer, whom he found at the door, pistol in hand. George had his hand on his revolver, but had not drawn it from its scabbard, when Montoyer asked him why he did not draw, and commenced firing, discharging one barrel of his pistol at George, the ball taking effect just above the left nipple, turning George part way round, and while in that position again banged away, hitting him in the right side, the ball passing entirely through the chest and lodging in the left arm. The second shot brought George to the ground in a dying condition; but while he was in the agonies of death he managed to draw his pistol from its scabard, and steadying it with both hands fired at the Mexican, who had continued to advance toward him; the ball striking Montoyer in the lower part of the abdomen and ranging upward, inflicted a fatal wound, bringing him to the ground, after falling, he crawled up to George—in whom life was by this time extinct—and shot two more balls into the corpse, one entering the head at the left eye, and the other passing through the neck. Immediately after finishing his bloody work he rolled over and was a corpse. Five minutes after the fight commenced the fierce spirits of the combatants had winged their flight to another world.

DOMESTIC LIFE—THE BELLE BOYD-HARDING DIVORCE CASE—THE SOUTHERN SPY DIVORCED FROM HER HUSBAND.

Belle Boyd Harding plaintiff, vs. Samuel W. Harding, defendant. Another chapter in the eventful history of Belle Boyd, "Stonewall" Jackson's favorite scout in the Shenanodah Valley during the campaign in Virginia, closed yesterday, when Judge Cardeze, at Supreme Court Chambers, rendered a decision dissolving the bonds of matrimony between the "Belle of the Valley" and Samuel W. Harding. At the close of her career, which rendered her name historic in connection with some of the events of the late rebellion, Belle went to England and made her debut as an actress at one of the London theatres.

While in the exercise of her new vocation she became acquainted with a man named Samuel W. Harding, and subsequently, on the 25th, of August, 1864, was married to him in that city, at St. James Church, Picadilly. She continued to perform in public for sometime, her name, memorable in consequence of her romantic and daring achievements on behalf of the "Lost Cause," proving a sufficient attraction to the English people, so many of whom sympathized with the Southern people in their struggle. Harding, her husband, who had also acquired some notoriety as an author and an actor, was formerly an officer in the United States naval service. A short time since Belle returned to America with her husband, and performed in various theatres throughout the country, and only a few evenings since made her bow at the French Theatre. In December last, in consequence of certain proofs of infidelity on behalf of her liege, she commenced an action for divorce a vinculo matrimonii against him. The suit was instituted in the Supreme Court by the service of summons and complaint upon her husband personally, and service admitted in his own handwriting.

The case was referred to Gratz Nathan, to take testimony and determine the issue, and report with his opinion thereon to the Court. Proof was taken of the marriage, and it was conclusively shown that the defendant was guilty, as charged in the complaint, the offence having been committed with one Fannie Sinclair a courtesan at a house in Crosby street. The defendant did not appear upon the reference, as he is at present in California, but his father was present and superintended his son's interest, no defence being interposed, however. An autograph letter of the defendant, written to "My Dear Colonel," a friend of Harding's giving the real and fictitious names of "his damsel," Fannie; and stating that she "had a card of his (Harding's) sticking in her glass, was also produced for the plaintiff in evidence,

The referee reported in favor of plaintiff on all issues, and the Court confirmed the report yesterday. Belle askes no alimony from her former husband, and was apparently anxious only to get rid of him. She stated explicitly on the reference that she wished to resume her maiden name, Belle Boyd.

A YOUNG HUSBAND ABANDONS HIS WIFE AMID A GLITTERING DISPLAY OF DRY GOODS.—Last Spring a young man of prepossessing appearance and good address, named Clayton Guptil, landed at Dubuque. He found employment and soon thereafter courted a girl. Inventing the fable that he was to have a legacy of fifteen thousand dollars, he got the parents' consent, and the pair were married. The Dubuque Times tells the rest of the story thus:

Last Monday morning bright and early, Guptil told his wife to put on her bonnet and shawl and come with him to make some purchases, preparatory to house keeping. Like a dutiful wife she assented, and together they visited many of the leading establishments in the city. First, the whole-souled husband purchased a magnificent sewing machine, next an expensive set of furs with many other trinkets too numerous to mention. They finally brought up at the dry goods store of one of our leading merchants, and here Guptil went to purchasing goods with a prodigality and recklessness in regard to expense wonderful to witness. The proprietor and whole army of clerks, both male and female, were kept bobbing up and down to fill orders. Whole bolts of cloth and calico, shawl and dress paterns were laid upon the counter, and as quickly purchased by Guptil. In a short time the bill amounted to $200. The husband then remarked that he had bought enough to commence keeping house with, and told his wife to wait in the store while he went to the bank. He went out and that is the last that has been seen of Guptil. Patiently the young wife waited by the counter, chatting with one of her former schoolmates, over the supposed virtues of her husband. Minutes stretched into hours and the twilight shades came on apace, but no husband. At last, weary and discouraged, and with a horrible suspicion that she had been betrayed, the wife took up her little bundle that she had brought with her to the store, and went to her parents' home only to learn the cruel truth to soon, that the man who at the altar had solemnly promised to love and protect her, was a villain of the darkest dye, and that she had been heartlessly abandoned.

IN marriage, the heart of a widow is like a furnished apartmen, where one is apt to find something left there by a former lodger.

We clip the following communication from the State Capital Reporter :-

EDITOR REPORTER: My attention was called to an article in the Placer Herald, a day or two since, headed "The Railroad and the Reporter." With the controversy now being carried on between the Reporter and the Placer Herald I have nothing to do, nor do I purpose to interfere, believing the editors of the former amply competent to sustain themselves in the course they have thought proper to pursue in relation to one of the greatest enterprises inaugurated in this or any previous age; if for no other reason, the fact that there has no justice, argument or logic yet been produced by the "doughty knight" of the Herald, in answer to the truths showered to the public generally from the pens of correspondents. But the Herald, being unable to successfully confute or even decently compete in argument with the Reporter, resorts to the miserable subterfuge of abusing one of the employes of the office—myself—and endeavoring to make it appear, first, that it was by reason of my being employed as a workman in the office of the Reporter that the reply was made to an article in the Herald on the course adopted by you in regard to the Central Pacific Railroad Company. It is well known, sir, that I am in favor of the project of railroads, the reasons for which I have time and again given to the public; and had I not been previously in favor of internal improvements, and the fostering and encouragement of an enterprise which is destined to bring to us tenfold blessings for the trifling investments at present put into it, my sense of justice and right would prompt me to oppose the crusade being carried on toward this corporation by the Herald editor and others as ignorant or selfish as himself.

I will here allude to the manner in which many of the signatures have been obtained to the petitions and the persons who have been induced to sign them: Many of those who signed the petitions, and which came to the Senators from Placer for presentation in a continual stream, were, in very many instances, signed by non-taxpayers, non-voters and non-residents, whose names were obtained for the apparent purpose of keeping company with somebody who was concious of being guilty of a mean trick and wanted company in order that the opprobrium might be divided around in homepathic doses.

But I digress. It was not my intention to argue the injustice of reducing railroad fares, but put myself straight before the public as to the charges of the Herald; I have seen no reason to change my political sentiments from those advocated during the rebellion. I was opposed then, and am still, to a disruption of the Union. I am not indebted to the Pacific Railroad Company or Charles Crocker for the privilege of laboring in the Reporter office that I may earn a living, but to a private friend. The Central Pacific Railroad, nor any one in their behalf, ever paid me a dollar for anything I ever wrote or published for them, except the advertisement which is in every respectable newspaper on the line of the road. The Herald hasn't got it I believe. The Placer Courter opposed the railroad, and M. Walkup, who canvassed the county in opposition to the railroad at the time, well knew this fact when he penned his article for the Herald on Saturday last. He asserts that I received paid up stock for advocating the road; this is also false. I have never, as before stated, received a dollar or any other evidence of value from the company, save for legitimate advertising of passenger and freight cars. I hope the above may be satisfactory to Mr. Walkup; if not, I can satisfy him. I have no confessions to make to him or any of his ilk. If the proprietors of the Reporter see fit to employ me as a compositor, I suppose they have the right to do so, and the mantle of charity would never drop upon the sholders of Walkup so long as he persists in his uncalled for attempts to deprive an innocent party from making a support for himself and family. I would like to know where the ex-Lieutenant Governor's vaunted affection for the working-man comes in. As to the charlatanism and hollow professions, I can easily see that he is well supplied. With him I am done. His whole article, so far as it alludes to the "ex-editor from Dutch Flat," is maliciously false, and I believe he knew it to be so when he wrote it. Thanking you for the privilege of setting myself right.

I am, respectfully,

March 3, 1868. E. B. BOUST.

As we do not exchange with that dirty sheet, the Placer Herald, we cannot fully judge the article which called forth the above communication; but we gather enough to know that it is a malicious attack on the part of Mr. Walkup to gratify a personal spite. The course pursued by the Herald in the matter receives the earnest condemnation of all good citizens.

THAT SUPPER.—On Tuesday evening last it was our pleasure to partake of one of the finest suppers that we have seen spread for many-a-day; we allude to the complimentary supper tendered by E. W. Watmore to Chas. Seffens. The arrangement of the table was grand, and the expense seemed to have been totally ignored by Mr. Watmore in getting up the whole affair. Wine and toasts were free and plenty, and a happier and more sociable crowd could hardly be gotten together. The following are some of the toasts proposed:

Our Host and Hostess.—Rev. Mr. Benton. Mining and Commercial Interests of California.—S. Y. Halsey. The first President of our Union, the Father of his Country, Gen. George Washington—N. W. Blanchard, responded to by C. J. Brown. The Army and Navy—George Squiers. The Congress of the United States, the safeguard and bulwark of Constitutional Liberty—C. M. Kopp. The Fire Department—George M. Halsey, The Legal Profession—Doctor Wilson, responded to by C. J. Brown. England's great champion of universal liberty, John Bright—W. M. Sharon. The Medical Profession—I. T. Coffin. The Heroes of '76 and '61—W. S. Cooke. To the memory of Abraham Lincoln, the noblest of America's Statesmen—G. W. Towle. The young ladies, the pomegranate flowers of our land. May they ever be seen advancing the interests of, cherishing and ardently loving that incult class of community Old Bachelors—C. J. Brown. The company broke up about half past twelve A. M.

REVIVAL MEETINGS.—For the past three weeks' revival meetings have been held almost every night in the Methodist Church; but with limited success thus far, as regards new acquisitions. Here is a splended chance for those who wish to become Christians, in the true sense of the word. The meetings will hereafter be held at the Union Churh.

SANTA CLARA UNION.—We have received the first number of a new paper published at Santa Clara, under the name stated above, by Bannister & Swinnerton. Politically it supports the Union party. It announces that it will not accept any of a certain class of advertisements, (doctors) as they design to make it a family paper. We wish them success.

NEW PAPER.—A new paper is to be started at Grass Valley, sometime during the coming month by B. F. Hollis &Co., It is to be Union in politics. Hollis stumped Nevada county for the Democratic party last Fall. He is said to be a good sign painter.

IN FULL BLAST.—We learn that the miners at Gold Run, are nearly all at work in their claims; they having made some satisfactory arrangements with the Water Companies in regard to the price of water.

CLEAR.—Again we are blessed with the appearance of that genial body, Old Sol.

LETTER FROM JENNY.

DUTCH FLAT, MARCH 5, 1868.

EDITOR ENQUIRER:—Will you allow me to say a few more words through the columns of your paper? (To be sure.—ED. ENQ.) Well, Mary was visiting at our house when the last ENQUIRER came. We were having a sewing-bee, Mary and I, in the back parlor, with the house all alone to ourselves. If you had happened to be passing about the time we were reading Bachelor's Peeper's and Bed Bug's communications, I guess you'd have thought there was something very funny going on inside. And so there was, for I laughed till I couldn't stand up and until Mary declared that if I didn't stop I'd raise the neighbors, when I tried to stop and couldn't. Then Mary commenced and laughed till she got the cramps and couldn't sit still and had to get up and walk about, and kept it up till she had to lay down on the sofa and kick, to straighten herself out, and I got frightened and quit for a while, because I thought Mary was going into convulsions, it was so unlike her, she is usually such a quiet, sober creature. Well, after a while we got started again, and laughed by spells, all that day and pretty much all that night after going to bed. Bachelor's Adventure was very good, and so was Peeper's poetry, but what tickled me most was Bed Bug's idea that Mary was a—"ah—well"—a man! of course there was a chance for lots of fun about that! I think that Bed Bug must be one of those "crazy bed-bugs" that we read about. I wonder how he got such an idea in his head? Mary a man! I say she isn't, I, Jenny, whom he says "he knows to be a woman by the ear marks," say that in matter of sex Mary and I are as much alike as two peas in a pod. O Mr. Bed Bug, ar'nt you a smarty?—The conceit of the "lords of creation!" they think they know it all, know everything! How often their claims to superior wisdom lead them to make a laughing stock of themselves! What vain creatures they are, how easily deceived, and how easily they—"ah—well"—deceive themselves! and never is it so thoroughly done as when they are just slightly assisted in the performance. Think of "ah—well"—think of Bed Bug!—Wonder if all his great fund of female knowledge is thus "based on the bed rock?" If so, musn't he be a great judge—of the Supreme—sex? and oughtn't his "findings" to be respected? Guess he is, like a good many masculines who have too much to say about "live females," a better Judge of cotton and saw-dust "figures," such as appear in milliner's windows, than of women of real flesh and blood. O no, it isn't as plain as day that he has gathered all he knows about our sex from the study of milliners' "models" and dry goods' "dummies" stuck up in the windows? I'll bet that, with all his smartness, a good "shape" got up to his notion and worked with springs by a ventriloquist could be made to deceive him into an offer of matrimony—especially if it had nice legs! because I never saw a "know-all" in my life but what he was a regular muggins. I can easily imagine the gentleman gazing into some miliner's window, infatuated with the "charms" of a female model there displayed, and snapping his eyes and stroking his beard and thinking—"ah—well"—thinking of securing her for a "mother for his offspring." And, all things considered, I think such a choice of a helpmate would be a very judicious one for him, for, if regularly wound up every morning, she could do all the house-work he will ever want done, entertain all the visitors who will ever call on him, and attend to all the "offspring" likely ever to claim his paternal care—and do it all, I guess, without hiring any help!

O, but I'm glad all masculines are not overflowing with such conceit! All have gushed with it, though, at sometime, I guess? At least all I've ever been acquainted with have, but many have been cured, and all my present acquaintances are free of it in the offensive degree, so that all whom I acknowledge as personal friends are very agreeable fellows. It seems to be something born in a man and which he has to get rid of before a certain age, or die the social death—and that's what's the matter with Bed Bug who is dying of it, and nobody cares a fig. There's nothing that will put it to flight like female training—don't think Bed Bug ever had a female trainer, his conceit may have led him to try and train a female, but I'll bet my bonnet that he went very bunglingly about it and had to use force? Yes, female training, that's what takes the born craziness out of you men. Show me a man who has loved half a dozen affectionate girls in turn, or in other words, a man who has had half a dozen affectionate girl trainers, and I'll show you a very modest, sensible and desirable companion. You bet, only such are first class companions for ladies. Now there's Bachelor, I think he's becoming eligible to companionship very fast. I know by the way he writes that he is under training, and is getting rid of his questionable qualities rapidly. I'm considerably prepossessed in his favor, you bet, and I think first rate of her, whoever she may be, who has him in hand, and is trying to finish up the Creator's plan of making him a gentleman—which is one of the finishing off jobs that we women were put here on earth to do. But there's Peeper, I hardly know what to think about him, am inclined to think he has been in the hopper, but never been regularly through; or, in other words, that he has been trained a little, but by a very bad trainer, some transient, scallywag adventuress perhaps, with no heart in her bosom, and going round seeking whom she might beguile. Don't despair, but keep peeping, Peeper, for if she gets out of a job she may come sailing back to take up her work; and if she don't, be comforted, Peeper, in the thought that it is always possible for one woman to take up anothers work, though abruptly thrown down, and go on with it with happy effect, and that there are several girls about who would think you a prize and would like to have the job of finishing you up. But quit peeping, Peeper, as we pass, or quit talking about it, just which you'd rather.

Guess I will answer a few things Bed Bag has said, and stop. He says, "As a rule, women are easily flattered." Now, that isn't so; women have a great deal of flattery offered them, because "as a rule" that is about all the masculines are capable of offering in social intercourse. There isn't one in a dozen loaded with anything else, and as women must necessarily appear, in accordance with the popular idea, as meek and passive creatures, they are obliged to sit still and let the masculines spout it at them. Flattery is a dose that women are forced to pretend to take just as often as the door-bell rings and empty-headed fellows come smirking into their presence—that's what our definition of flattery amounts to. Its precious little of it we swallow, I can assure you, and Bed Bug's assertion that it is liked shows how he has been deceived in the flattery business. He says I have no right to call lubberly clowns by their right name, nor to style their feet bug crushers.—Guess he's one of them and has got a pair, and that's what's the matter? If he wasn't a lubberly, bug crushing clown he wouldn't mind the expression. Yes, that's it, he thinks I'm too personal. Well I mightily tickled to think I've hit one of those awkward monsters of the ball-room who have torn my skirts so often! So, put that in your pipe and smoke it. He says it isn't neccessary for a gentleman to apologize every time he tears a lady's dress in a ball-room, that such practice is silly and has become too common, etc. Well, now I say that any man capable of holding, and especially of making public such sentiments as that, is a low-flung blackguard, and I, Jenny, in the name of the oppressed sex, pronounce him to be such, and that's all I've got to say on that subject. He says: "If women only knew how musty and disgusting their waterfalls smell after becoming well warmed in a dance, they would leave them at home as they are neither useful nor ornamental." Fudge! how could a little whipper-snapper like him get high enough to smell a lady's waterfall? If he smelt something "musty and disgusting," I'll tell him what it was. It wasn't the waterfalls, but it was, undoubtedly, a long, scraggly face-mop, or beard—"musty and disgusting" with the scurf of dead manhood and dried up tobacco juice, and if the wearer dosen't like the way it smells, he'd better "cut it off and leave it at home," for certainly "its neither useful nor ornamental," and if he will call round when I'm cutting off my trail, I will lend him the scissors. O sugar! what a way fellows have of talking about our waterfalls and how they smell! Maybe they want us to wear them as they do theirs—under our noses? Faugh! I guess we've got finer taste and better sense. Well, he winds up horridly; he says: "The most trifling, indecent and vulgar of our sex are the favorites of young ladies at every social gathering." Now if that had been original with Bed Bug, he would have been horsewhipped by the young ladies of this place before this time, but we all had heard it before and sort of got used to it; for it's as old as the hills, our mothers heard it before us, and Bed Bug's mother heard it before his time; for it always has been, and still is the cry of the most worthles trash that wears boots. But, crackey! if it was true, wouldn't Bed Bug be a gay lion in Dutch Flat? O, no, I guess not! But there—I guess I'd better stop this time.

JENNY.

P. S. This is written with a feather dipped in spirits of turpentine.

P. P. S. S. I don't want any of the gentleman to trouble Bed Bug for what he has said, because I found him first and he belongs to me, and I want to keep him awhile and have a little fun with him before I kill him dead. J.

LETTER FROM TRUCKEE MEADOWS

MARCH 1, 1868.

EDITOR ENQUIRER:—The weather has been terrible stormy here for the past two weeks, rain and wind and wind and rain without end, and still the end is not yet. The roads in this vicinity are almost impassible; seas of mud, yea, rivers of mud are to be found on every side; wagons, horses and teamsters are all swimming in mud. Great excitement prevails in regard to the location of the depot of the Central Pacific Railroad; the place is fixed seven and one-half miles below Hunter's and near Lake's bridge. Surveyors are engaged in laying out the town site, and they are expected to finish their work in the course of a week; we expect a great rush here. A further excitement prevails in regard to the building of a branch road from Lake's bridge to Virginia by the way of Washoe and Carson cities. This county, Washoe, is willing to take bonds for $300,000 in gold coin; a nice, snug little sum for a small county. If any one has funds to spare at Dutch Flat at seven per cent, per annum, a rare chance for a good, (permanent, we should say.—ED. ENQ.) investment is offered. Let one and all of your citizens that you can spare emegrate to this new town, as there is plenty of room to spare, and sage brush in abundance—but be careful to provide yourselves with a years provisions before you come, and a good chopping-hoe to clear the land, and loose change for spending money for all the extras during their stay. My ENQUIRER comes very irregular; what is the matter?—(It is mailed from this office regular.—ED. ENQ.) If any thing of importance turns up will let you hear of it. Yours. L. A.

WHO IS HE.—The Sacramento Record says:

The venerable Local of the Record has received a long string of machine poetry from "A. E. R.," of Dutch Flat, wherein all our advertisers are noticed. We never knew R-d-s-n to fail on a machine before, but the fact is when he comes to bring machines to bear upon literary matters, he fails badly. He has a patent saw, and to tell the truth we "never saw a saw a saw saw as his saw saws;" but his aforesaid saw when placed upon poetical composition is certainly the worst old saw we ever saw. We are satisfied, however, that it would do a pine log justice.

Have we a real poet in our midst who, thus long, has kept himself disguised beneath the mantle of a mechanic? Bring him forth, whoever he may be, this gallant rider of the fabled Pegasus, this worshipper at the Muses' shrine, that his great works may be seen by all men, and they be permitted to glorify him therefor.

TREASURY ROBBED.—We have made mention, says the State Capital Reporter, that the safe of the County Treasurer of Placer county had been robbed of about $14,000. We have learned since that the Treasurer, Auditor and County Clerk went out to lunch, locking the door of the office, but that the door of the safe was left open. There were abstracted from the safe a bag containing over $6,000 of county funds, and another of $7,000 belonging to the outgoing Treasurer. The sum of about $20,000 belonging to the State and county remained undisturbed. No clue has been obtained as to who the party or parties were that committed the larceny.

SNOW SLIDE.—We are informed says the Sacramento Union that a snow slide occurred on the line of the Pacific Railroad, about a mile and a half this side of Cisco, yesterday (March 4th,) by which eight Chinaman were buried. Two were afterward dug out alive, and the other six dead. Three or four other snow slides occurred in the same locality and some of the snow sheds have been destroyed. A turning table at Cisco was lately destroyed by a slide. Several locomotives and 200 men have been sent up to clear the track and repair damages. The loss to the railroad company by the storm is estimated at a very high figure.

SMASHED.—We learn that on Wednesday night the Engine house of the Central Pacific Railroad Company at Cisco caved in from the weight of snow on its roof; fortunately there were no engines in the house at the time.

WITHIN our memory we do not recall the occurrence of a storm of rain which could equal in severity that portion of the late storm, which occurred on Monday and Tuesday; the rain falling, to all appearances, in solid sheets.

LETTER FROM MARY JANE.

DUTCH FLAT, MARCH, 3, 1868.

EDITOR ENQUIRER:—Afflicted with ennui, I embrace the hope of driving it away by writing a letter. In this unpromising mood, may I claim again the editorial favor? I was visiting JENNY when I first saw last Saturday's ENQUIRER. I had arrived, in accordance with promise, to remain a day or two and help do some sewing we had planned for a family which stood in need of a little assistance. JENNY, in one of her rambles, had discovered the family and remarked that the little girls were insufficiently clad, and communicated the case to me, declaring that it was altogether too bad and that it made her heart ache to see the thinly clad and shivering little creatures going about in a Christian community; proposing that, if I would give up one of my winter dresses for them, she would give up two, and that together we would cut and alter the dresses over and make the poor little creatures warm and comfortable. I was chilled myself, at first, by the course her thoughts of relief had taken, as I could illy, very illy afford to spare any portion of a wardrobe already scanty for my own requirements and always supplied by the labor of my own hands, but, after a little reflection, I thought I could much more illy afford to see the poor little creatures going about red-legged with cold when it was in my power to relieve them, and so the dresses were donated, and we were emloyed on them when the Carrier's cry: ENQUIRER! saluted our ears. I had heard, during the week, that several gentlemen were engaged in writing answers to JENNY's and my letters, and was intensely curious to see the paper, which was "whipped in" as the Carrier turned to depart. JENNY read the "news" aloud, and much of it proved quite mirth-provoking; you would have smiled perhaps, to observe the effect of the reading. It was rather comic for publication. I was really pleased with "Bachelor's Adventure." I thought it particularly well put together, and it was a real gratification to me to read an essay designed with so much humor and sketched with so much skill "done" perhaps by some one I know? Certainly I do know that "Bachelor" is a man, a fine, bold and manly one, too, with a well balanced mind to boot, for he is not put out at trifles, but is pleased and amused and laughs at his misadventures among trails, and when summoned to appear and answer for his grave offenses, comes forward and confesses to all that he has done, and to something more. To say the least, there is something pleasingly masculine in this. Mr. Peeper also proved quite interesting, particularly in his solicitous inquiry in regard to the propriety of ankle peeping. He writes smoothly and pleasantly and evidently is an agreeable gentleman. Without fear of returning coarseness I beg to call his attention to the fact that the poetry submitted does not establish a precedent for peeping "from behind a post." That is advantageous to the Peeper and plainly unfair to the 'Peeped." I cannot pretend to designate all the situations and circumstances in which, in my opinion, peeping would, and would not be fair, but I would offer it as a maxim for gentlemens' consciences to consult, that; it is fair to peep fairly. Mr. Chintz paper, I read with feelings of amusement and disgust. I was amused to see him open with classics plunge into ribaldry snd burrow in saw-dust and bran. I was disgusted with much. It is difficult for him to believe me to be a lady? After reading his paper, it is impossible for me to believe him to be a gentleman. Indeed his ruffianly airs, gross indecencies and glaring untruths would justify the belief that he is a stranger to gentlemen's society. Assuming the role of adviser to a young girl, he approaches slandering her friend, insults her ears with palpable indecencies, insults the sex, insults the gentlemen of the place, and by declaring a code of ruffianism fit for the government of the ball-room, fixes a stigma upon the town. I learn the opinion prevails and before has been publicly expressed, that Mr. Chintz is insane. If this be true, I can tutor my feelings to pity him to forgive him the indignities he has offered me, and thus I dismiss him from my mind.

MARY JANE.

Rising Sun G. & S. M. Company. Location of works, one mile west of Colfax, Placer county.—At a meeting of the Trustees of said company, held at their office in the town of Colfax, on Monday, the 2d, day of March, 1868, an assessment of fifty cents per share was levied on the capital stock of said company, payable immediately in United States gold coin, to the Secretary at his office. Any stock upon which said assessment shall remain unpaid on the 2d, day of APRIL 1868, shall be deemed delinquent, and unless payment be made before will be sold on Saturday, the 18th day of APRIL, 1868, to pay the delinquent assessment, together with costs of advertising and expenses of sale.

HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOUNG, in 1850. In this age of deceit and charlatanism it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sick and troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number or the manner of directing your letters. Consultation Office, 540, Washington street, San Francisco.

MEDICAL ADVICE.—DR. WM. K. DOHERTY'S Medical and Surgical Institute is becoming a sine quo non to the welfare of our State and heatlh of our citizens; and his rapidly spreading reputation, although it may excite surprise, is but the signal of skill, and follows as the natu result of such a cause. We are personally acquainted with gentlemen who had suffered for years under chronic disease, and who had taken advantage of every available means that promised relief, but without success, until they called upon Dr. Doherty, who, in an incredibly short space of time, has given them entire relief. It is gratifying to announce this fact, because the Dr. is a gentleman who seeks, not by defamation of others to establish his reputation or ruin of another's fame. The Doctor conducts his own Institute in such a manner must be gratifying to all his patients. He examines, advises, and recommends without charge, and the patient, after hearing his terms for treatment, can accept or reject at pleasure. In no case does the Doctor make a charge unless he effects a cure. This he is able to do, because he feels the confidence which long experience has given, and no doubt consolation which appertain to that confidence. Persons afflicted with either acute or chronic disease, would do well to consult the Doctor; at all events, it can do no harm, as for consultation he asks no fee; nor does he insist on obedience to his advice unless the patient places himself under his care. His offices are on Sacramento street, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship office.—News

SPECIAL MEDICAL NOTICE.—DR. CHARES H. TOZER would most respectfully inform the sick and afflicted that his MEDICAL INSTITUTE is removed to No. 108 Montgomery street, next door to the Occidental Hotel, San Francisco. OF DEATHS, that annually occur, are caused by Preventable Diseases, and the greater portion of those complaints would, if Radway's Ready Relief or Pills, (as the case may require,) were administered when pain or uneasiness or when pain or uneasiness or slight sickness is experienced, be exterminated from the system in a few hours. PAIN, no matter from what cause, is almost instantly cured by the Ready Relief. In cases of Cholera, Diarrhœa, Cramps, Spasms, Bilious Cholic, in fact all Pains, Aches and Infirmities either in the Stomach, Bowels, Bladder, Kidneys, or the Joints, Muscles, Arms, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Fever and Ague, Headache, Toothache, &c., will in a FEW MINUTES yield to the soothing influence of the Ready Relief.

Sudden Colds, Coughs, Influenza, Diptheria, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Chills, Fever and Ague, Mercurial Pains, Scarlet Fever, &c., &c., take from four to six of Radway's Pills, and also a teaspoonful of the Ready Relief in a glass of warm water, sweetened with sugar or honey; bathe the throat, head and chest with Ready Relief. (If Ague or Intermittent Fever, bathe the spine also,) in the morning you will be cured.

How the Ready Relief Acts.

In a few minutes the patient will feel a slight tingling irritation, and the skin becomes reddened; if there is much distress in the stomach, the Relief will assist nature in removing the offending cause,—a general warmth is felt throughout the entire body, and its diffusive stimulative properties rapidly courses through every vein and tissue of the system, arousing the slothful and partially paralyzed glands and organs to renewed and healthy action, perspiration follows, and the surface of the body feels increased heat. The sickness at stomach, colds, chills, headache, oppressed breathing, the soreness of the throat, and all pains, either internally or externally, rapidly subside, and the patient falls into a tranquil sleep, awakes refreshed, invigorated, cured.

It will be found that in using the Relief externally, either on the spine or across the kidneys, or over the stomach and bowels, that for several days a pleasing warmth will be felt, showing the length of time it continues its influence over the diseased parts.

☞ Price of R. R. R. 50 cents per bottle. Sold by Druggists and Country Merchants, Grocers, &c.

TYPHOID FEVER.

This disease is not only cured by Dr. Radway's Relief and Pills, but prevented. If exposed to it, put one teaspoonful of Relief in a tumbler of water. Drink this before going out in the morning, and several times through the day. Take one of Radway's Pills one hour before dinner, and one on going to bed.

If seized with fever, take 4 to 6 of the Pills every six hours, until copious discharges from the bowels take place; also drink the Relief diluted with water, and bathe the entire surface of the body with Releif. Soon a powerful perspiration will take place, and you will feel a pleasant heat throughout the system. Keep on taking the Releif repeatedly, every four hours, also the Pills. A cure will be sure to follow. The Relief is strengthening, stimulating, soothing, and quieting; it is sure to break up the Fever and to neutralize the poison.

Let this treatement be followed and thousands will be saved. The same treatment will be followed in Fever and Ague, Yellow Fever, Ship Fever, Billious Fever, will effect a cure in 24 hours. When the patient fells the Relief irritating or heating the skin, a cure is positive. In all cases where pain is felt. the Relief should be used.

Relief 50 cts.; Pills 25 cts. Sold by all Druggists.

If faithfully used according to directions will cure every case of Diabetes, and greatly mitigate the troublesome effects cause by a relaxation of the outlet of the bladder. It is a most successful remedy for the Gravel and other diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, and for female diseases is unequalled. The Catholicon uniformly cures Prolapsus Uteri, Whites, all Irregularities of the Monthly Turns, Suppressions, Incontinence of Urine, Bloating, Dropsical Swellings, and all diseases of pregnancy.—The specific action of this medicine is immediate and certain upon the Uterine and Abdominal Muscles and Ligaments; restoring them to as healthy a state as those of childhood and youth, so that patients who have used the Graefenberg Company's Uterine Catholicon cannot sufficiently express their gratitude for the relief afforded.

PLANTATION BITTERS.

This splendid tonic is now used by all classes of people for every symptom of a "Stomach out of order."
The secret of it is this: Plantation Bitters are certain to correct the juices of the Stomach, set all its machinery at work, and enable it to resist and throw off the approaching danger. The tendeny of the operations of Nature is always towards a cure; all she needs is a little assistance at the proper time. How much more reasonable and sensible it is to help her along with a gentle, yet powerful Tonic, than to deluge and weaken and defeat her curative processes with poisonous drugs and fiery mixtures, which only stupify and plant the seeds of disease and death.

Important Certificates.

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.
REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y.

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use. Thy frend.
ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

"* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.
REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

"* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.
G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home,
Cincinnati, O."

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer.
The public may rest assured that in no case will the perfectly pure standard of the PLANTATION BITTERS be departed from. Every bottle bears the fac-simile of our signature on a steel plate engraving, or it cannot be genuine.
Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon, is a swindler and impostor. Beware of refilled bottles. See that our private stamp is UNMUTILATED over every cork.

PICTURES OF MEMORY.

Among the beautiful pictures
That hang on Memory's wall,
Is one of a dim old forest,
That seemeth best of all:
Not for its gnarled oaks olden,
Dark with the mistletoe;
Not for the violets golden
That sprinkle the vale below;
Not for the milk-white lilies
That lean from the fragrant hedge,
Coquetting all day with the sunbeams,
And stealing their golden edge;
Not for the vines on the uplands,
Where the bright red berries rest,
Nor the pinks, nor the pale sweet cowslip,
It seemeth to me the best.

I once had a little brother,
With eyes that were dark and deep—
In the lap of that old dim forest
He lieth in peace, asleep.
Light as the down of a thistle,
Free as the winds that blow,
We roved there the beautiful summers—
The summers of long ago;
But his feet on the hills grew weary,
And, one of the Autumn eves,
I made for my little brother
A bed of the yellow leaves.

Sweetly his arms folded
My neck in a meek embrace,
As the light of immortal beauty
Silently covered his face;
And when the arrows of sunset
Lodged in the tree-tops bright,
He fell in his saint-like beauty,
Asleep by the gates of light.
Therefore, of all the pictures
That hang on Memory's wall,
The one of the dim old forest
Seemeth the best of all.

DEVOTED BUT UNSUCCESSFUL.—One Sunday evening recently, a young man who, for the sake of convenience, we will call him John, went to visit the girl whom he would call his own. The fair one resides near the canal. During the evening the young man, of the name of John, was unable to conceal the wish of his heart, and in tender accents declared that the young lady should be his. He met with a flat refusal. The ardent John still pressed her farther, declaring that if she would not accept him, he would then and there drown himself in the briny waters of the canal. As his threats did not effect the desired purpose, he proceeded to carry it out. He plunged fearlessly in the murky flood and waded out until the chilly waters reached over his shoulders. It will be remembered that the evening on which this occurred was none of the warmest. Retreating before finally carrying out his purpose, John cried out shivering with the cold:

"W-w-will you marry me?"

"No!"

In he plunged again, this time until the water reached his neck, and again he halted before the last plunge.

"W w-will you marry me?"

"No!"

Again he went in, this time going fairly under water, as far that only the top of his head could be discovered above the surface. But he emerged and staggered out of the canal, and shivering worse than ever spluttered out:

"N-now, w-w-will you marry me?"

"No!"

"Well, I d-don't care a d-d——n whether you'll marry me or not. You won't get me into that canal again"

Nor did he again essay his fortunes in the uncertain deep. Shivering and chattering with his teeth, he quickly departed and returned to his home, a sadder and let us hope a wiser man.

RAILROADS.—The Marysville correspondent of the Nevada Gazette writes: "A gentleman, who ought to be well posted in such matters, informs me that we will have a direct road from Vallejo to this city within fourteen months. He says the main road will not go to Sacramento, but that a branch will connect with the Pacific railroad at that place. Whether this is true I know not, but I do know that Mr. Spillman, Assemblyman from Sutter county, has introduced a bill in the Assembly to allow the county of Sutter to subscribe $50,000 of her bonds to the railroad company as soon as the road is completed to Sutter county. In order to pass through that county the road must leave Sacramento to the east. This railroad has no connection with the Yuba railroad, which has remained in statu quo at Reed's ranch for about a year. It is said, however, that the latter road will be rapidly pushed to completion as soon as spring has fairly opened, it having passed into the hands of the Central Pacific Railroad Company."

GIVE THE DEVIL HIS DUE.—There is a point to the following anecdote: A person was making a call upon an old lady, who made it a habitual rule never to speak ill of another, and had observed it so closely that she always justified those whom she had heard evil spoken of. Before the old lady made her appearance in the parlor, her several children were speaking of this peculiarity of their mother and one of them playfully added: "Mother has such a habit of speaking well of everybody that I do believe if Satan himself were the subject of conversation, mother would find some good quality even in him." Of course, this remark elicited some smiling and merriment, at the originality of the idea, in the midst of which the old lady entered the room, and on being told what had just been said, she immediately an involuntarily replied: "Well, my children I wish we had satan's industry and perseverance."

A fellow whose countenance was enough to scare the evil one, was giving some extra flourishes in a public house when he was observed by a Yankee, who, walking up, asked him if he didn't fall into a brook when he was young.

"What do you mean, you impetinent scoundrel?"

"Why, I didn't mean nothing, only you've got such a crooked mouth, I thought as how you might have fallen in the brook when you was a boy, and your mother hung you up by the mouth to dry."

A new Opera House, costing $75,000, holding two thousand people, has just been completed at Elmira, New York.

WEEDS OR FLOWERS.—Many a young widow wears crape upon her person when her mind is all flounces and ribbons.

"My dear doctor," said an Irishman, "its no use your giving me an emetic; I tried it twice in Dublin, and it would not stay on my stomach five minutes."

Marshal Kane of secession notoriety has been presented with a $300 snuff-box by the Baltimore Police.

A CARD FROM THE AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY Of Waltham, Mass.

This Company beg leave to inform the public that they commenced operations in 1850, and their factory now covers four acres of ground, and has cost more than a million dollars, and employs over 700 operatives. They produce 75,000 Watches a year, and make and sell not less than one-half of all the watches sold in the United States.

The difference between their manufacture and the European, is briefly this: European are made almost entirely by hand, and the result is of necessity a lack of that uniformity, which is indispensable to correct time-keeping. Both the eye and the hand of the most skillful operative must vary. But it is a fact that, except watches of the higher grades, are the product of the cheapest labor of Switzerland and the result is the worthless Ancres, Lepines and so-called Patent Levers—which soon cost more in attempted repairs, than their original cost. Common workmen, boys and women, buy the rough separate parts of these watches from various factories, polish and put them together, and take to the nearest watch merchant, who stamps and engraves them with any name or brand that may be ordered.

How American Watches are made.

The American Waltham Watch is made by no such uncertain process—and by no such incompetent workmen. All the Company's operations, from the reception of the raw materials to the completion of the watch, are carried on under one roof, and under one skillful and competent direction. But the great distinguishing feature of their watches, is the fact that their several parts are all made by the finest, the most perfect and delicate machinery ever brought to the aid of human industry. Every one of the more than a hundred parts of every watch is made by a machine—that infallibly reproduces every succeeding part with the most unvarying accuracy. It was only necessary to make one perfect watch of any particular style and then to adjust the hundred machines necessary to reproduce every part of that watch, and it follows that succeeding watches must be like it.

The Company respectfully submit their watches on their merits only. They claim to make

A Better Article for the Money

by their improved mechanical processes than can be made under the old fashioned handicraft system. They manufacture watches of every grade, from a good, low-priced and substantial article, in solid silver hunting cases, to the finest chronometer; and also ladies' watches in plain gold or the finest enamelled and jeweled cases; but the indispensable requisite of all their watches is that they shall be GOOD TIME-KEEPERS. It should be remembered that, except their single lowest grade named the "Home Watch Company, Boston," ALL watches made by them

ARE FULLY WARRANTED

by a special certificate, and this warrantee is good at all times against the Company or its agents.

MEDICAL.

THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH.

Every Man His Own Physician.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,

AND

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT!

Disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

The Stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of the system—Abused or debilitated by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, fllental depression, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The Bowels sympathize by Costiveness, Diarrhœa and Dysentery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.

Erysipelas and Salt Rheum,

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this coutinent, to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic, its "modus operandi" is first to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.

Bad Legs, Old Sores, and Ulcers.

Cases of many years' standing, that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful unguent.

Eruptions on the Skin.

Arising from a bad state of the blood of chronic diseases, are eradicated, and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the face.

Female Complaints.

Whether in the young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these tonic medicines display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation, they are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every condition of health and station of life.

Piles and Fistula.

Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emolient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Piles,	Sore Legs,
Burns,	Rheumatism,	Sore Breasts,
Chilblains,	Ringworm,	Sore Heads,
Fistula,	Salt Rheum,	Sore Throats,
Gout	Scalds,	Sprains,
Stiff Joints,	Tetter,	Ulcers,
Lumbago,	Skin Diseases	Venereal Sores,
Sores of all kinds,	Mercurial Eruptions,
Swelled Glands,	Wounds of all kinds.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernible as a Water Mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE

has enjoyed on this coast an uninterrupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALES and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health. They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength from the frame; they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venerial Poison. The mildest forms, by retreading to the blood, hold over the afflicted one, the destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venereal, doubles iis dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured; the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be satisfied with partial cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of medicine, WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whom long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all cases entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT, SPEEDY and PERMANENT Cures are Always Guaranteed.

In syphilis and its adjuncts; Gonnorrhœa and its accompanying diseases; and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, and prostate; Seminal Weakness; Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion, Impotency; Incipient consumption, and all diseases of the urinary organs, in either sex, cure always warranted, or NO PAY REQUIRED, at the Seminal Weakness or Spermatorrhœa.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization, should stop to consider whence it arises. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lascivious dreams, accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptons of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive of all diseases Seminal Weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence towards a premature and loathsome grave. To him who finds his life dribbling out in the discharge of the vital principle of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that he one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim to this evil, and an innocent companion of his punishment. He adds to his misery and disorder until hope leaves him. There is no rescue except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult then, at once, a physician whom long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick-rooms with paralytics and consumptives, and hundreds of untimely graves with its misguided victims, should consult, without a moment's delay, one who will sympathize with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each and all assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE, without hindrance to business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Do not forget the address. See below.

Important to Females.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease and requires medical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society recommends him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and beg the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who will feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. See address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the private prescription of Dr. Young, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies for the complaints for which they are applied. MEDICAL.

FRENCH MEDICAL OFFICE.

DR. JULIEN PERRAULT, Doctor of Medicine of the Faculty of Paris, Graduate of the University Queen's College, and Physician of the St. John Baptiste Society of San Francisco.

DR. PERRAULT has pleasure to inform patients, and others seeking confidential medical advice, that he can be consulted daily at his office, Armory Hall Building, North-East corner Montgomery and Sacramento streets, San Francisco. Rooms No. 9, 10, 11, first floor, up stairs, entrance either Montgomery or Sacramen streets.

DR. PERRAULT'S studies have been almost exclusively devoted to the cure of the various forms of Nervous and Physical Debility, the results of injurious habits acquired in youth, which usually terminate in impotence and sterility, and permanently induce all the concomitants of old age. Where a secret infirmity exists involving the happiness of a life and that of others, reason and morality dictate the necessity of its removal, for it is a fact that premature decline of the vigor of manhood, matrimonial unhappiness, compulsory single life, etc., have their sources in causes, the germ of which is planted in early life, and the bitter fruit tasted long after-ward; patients, laboring under this complaint, will complain of one or more of the following symptons: Nocturnal Emissions, Pains in the Back and Head, Weakness of Memory and Sight, Discharge from the Urethra on going to stool or making water, the Intellectual Faculties are Weakened, Loss of Memory ensues, Ideas are clouded and there is a disinclination to attend to business, or even to reading, writign or the society of friends, etc. The patient will probably complain of Dizziness, Vertigo and that Sight and Hearing are Weakened and sleep disturbed by dreams, melancholy, sighing, palpitations, faintings, coughs and slow fever; while some have external rheumatic pain, bpess of the body. Some of the most common symptons are pimples in the face and aching in different pares of the body. Patients suffering from this disease, should apply immediately to DR. PERRAULT, either in person or by letter as he will guarantee a cure of Seminal Emissions and Impotence in six to eight weeks.

Patients suffering from venereal diseases in any stage Gonorrhea, Gleet, Strictures, Bubo Ulcers, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., will be treated successfully. All Syphilitic and Mercurial Taints entirely removed from the system.

DR. PERRAULT'S diplomas are in his office, where patients can see for themselves that they are under the care of a regularly educated practitioner. The best references given if required.

Patients suffering under chronic diseases, can call and examine for themselves. We invite investigation; claim not to know everything, nor to cure everybody, but we do claim that in all cases taken under treatment we fulfil our promises. We particularly request those who have tried this boasted doctor, and that advertised physician, till worn out and discouraged, to call upon us.

Low charges and quick cures. Ladies suffering from any complaint incidental to their sex, can consult the doctor, with the assurance of relief.

Female Monthly Pills.

DR. PERRAULT is the only agent in California for DR. BIOT'S Female Monthly Pills. Their immense sale has established their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other remedy for suppressions and irregularities, and other obstructions in females. On the receipt of five dollars, these Pills will be sent by mail or express to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.

Persons at a distance can be cured at home, by addressing a letter to DR. PERRAULT, corner of Sacramento and Montgomery streets, Rooms 10 and 11, or Box 973, P. O., San Francisco, stating the case as minutely as possible general habits of living, occupation, etc., etc.

All communications confidential. je 22-1y
